

Nathaniel Hawthorne's boyhood home launches phase 2 of fundraising campaign

August 3, 2022 / 0 Comments / in Community, Raymond / by Website Editor

After a successful completion of Phase 1 of its fundraising campaign—which allowed urgent repairs to the foundation, floors, and interior of Nathaniel Hawthorne's Boyhood Home in Raymond—the Hawthorne Community Association has launched Phase 2 of its fundraising campaign, to fully repair, upgrade, and sustain the beloved boyhood home of the author of The Scarlet Letter.

The goal of the campaign is to raise $75,000. This money will allow the Hawthorne Community Association to repair structural deficiencies in the roof; re-shingle it; re-paint or re-side walls; repair or replace the front steps; repair cracks to the interior walls; and complete landscaping and add fencing where necessary.

"The Hawthorne House is a landmark and source of great pride to everyone who appreciates the culture and literary heritage of New England," said Abel Bates of the Hawthorne Community Association, which has cared for the historic house since 1921. "By raising this $75,000, we will ensure that one of Maine's most historic homes will endure and thrive as a community events center."
